Ken Johnson

My painting is abstract, based on what I observe and the emotions that I experience: imperfect in its logic, skewed in its harmony, and obviously hand constructed.

Gwen Partin

I work in drawing, printmaking and book arts. My drawings are the result of a daily practice of exploring materials, color and systems that create patterns. These patterns stem from textile influences while often referencing or including handwritten words, landscape and botany or other natural formations.

54 3145 32nd Ave So

Kari Maxwell

Original paintings on paper and canvas, specializing in animals as subject.

55 3129 31st Ave So

Jinjer Markley

Jinjer plays with watercolor to make illustrations for children and adults, and tiny, mostly abstract studies of form and color she calls "Wallet Art."

Andrea Martin

The images for my art are cut from one piece of black paper using only an x-acto knife and must be simplified and arranged so that each element fits together like a puzzle, with each piece retaining a connection to the whole. Sometimes colored paper is added to the back of the design.

56 3108 30th Ave So

Sarah Lillian

Mama Possum

Handmade functional ceramics for home & garden; handmade gentle soaps for the whole family.
